JCWI Terms and Conditions:

- By agreeing to these terms and conditions, I/We declare that I/We will abide by the Objects of JCWI as outlined in its Memorandum of Association.
- JCWI will correspond with overseas members by email only.
- If you are applying as an organisation, the EC reserve the right to request a copy of your constitution. OISC registered consultancies must provide their registration no. This is to ensure that your organisation's membership will not be contrary to JCWI's objectives. If you refuse to provide such documents upon request, your membership may not be confirmed by the EC.
- Membership fees are revised annually and members will be notified of any changes.
- In accordance with JCWI's constitution, if your membership application is on behalf of an organisation it will be placed before the Executive Committee (EC) or the relevant sub-committee delegated by the EC. In the event that the EC refuses your application your payment will be refunded. Whilst your application for membership is being considered you will be eligible for discounts on JCWI Training and Publications. Those making an individual application do not require approval from the committee.
- JCWI's logo and name may not be used by members without the consent of JCWI.
- Membership applicants are entitled to cancel an order within seven working days of receipt of goods, but will then be liable for the cost of returning their membership pack.
- JCWI reserves the right to cancel your membership and associated benefits should we become aware of any fraudulent information.
